

A History of Maternal Health Disparities

Building Better Healthcare Systems for Birthing Mothers

JTC Experiences in partnership with WWA and Birth From the Earth is proud to bring renowned activist Michelle Browder for a lunchtime, in-person discussion with health professionals on the legacy of reproductive harm on Black women.

Michelle is a lifelong advocate, mentor, and artist from Montgomery, Alabama who works to expose the true historical narratives of maternal and women's reproductive and mental health. Michelle is the creator of the Mothers of Gynecology Monument and park and the "More Up Campus." She is a recognized national expert on using art and activism to foster healing, dignity, bodily autonomy paving the way for improved birth and maternal outcomes.

Monday, November 16th from 12 - 1:30 PM

Birth From the Earth, Earth Groundz

15 Main Street, Yonkers

The workshop is open to Student Midwives, New Midwives, Medical Students and other members of the medical community. Continuing Medical Education credits may be available.
